

New York Stock Market

New York, January 13.—There was further intermittent liquidation of stocks to-day, and some large blocks were thrown upon the market. The market was not without evidence of support, and rallied with good show of resistance to the pressure. The formal announcement to the stock exchange of the action taken by the board of governors in suspending the members of a prominent firm for operations in connection with Rock Island flurry on December 27, last, was accepted as closing that incident, and a sense of relief was experienced on that account. The outcome of this case and changes announced to-day in the offices of the Rock Island Company were held to offer explanation of some of the recent liquidation of stocks, or to confirm the impression of its sources, which has been felt for some time. A notable feature of the day's financial developments was the general, but belated relaxation in money markets. The influence of this on the speculative demand for stocks proved moderate to-day, but the resources thus assured for coming new capital issues made a reassuring factor in the situation.

The assertion of support for prices gained influence and there was less hesitation in the upward movement to ward the last final prices were higher generally than last night.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, January 13.—While less active to-day, cotton reflected further extension and violence, with a net decline of 100-150 points on the general list.

The market was at the advance of 11 points on January 12, to the decline of 100-150 points, but generally 6120 points net lower, and in spite of steady cables the active months sold off to a net loss of 100-22 points during the first few minutes under furnishers' orders. The market was in consequence of yesterday's break and Wall Street liquidation. As soon as the first rush of selling had been absorbed the market steadied on Liverpool, supporting, to be covered and stranded, the market of a better hand from spinners at the decline covering of shorts and rather better support from southern mills. There seemed a feeling through the market that the worst of the liquidation was over, and that the market of the day there was comparatively little cotton for sale, with March contracts working up to 11 1/2 and May to 15 1/4, a net gain of 100-150 points from the low level of 21 1/2 points from the low level of the morning. The absence of bull support was evident on this advance, however, and the market trading a fresh raid brought to a standstill with stop-loss orders uncovered on short delivery, and an hour the market lost the whole of midday recovery. March contracts closed at 11 1/2 and May at 15 1/4, from 34 1/4 this before being called last week, and 21 1/2 last month. For the week, 150,000 bales, since 107,500 last week and 202,750 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 8 bales against 11,162 last year, and at 100 no bales against 1,324 last year.

Cotton futures opened easy and closed flat.
